- DPCAC had a full presentation on Project 11 two years ago and may want a full progress report next year. In the meantime, we'll take a quick look at the website that provides the public with information about this major project so you may visit the site later and also tell others about it.

Topics for the Coming Year

- The infamous sticky dots will return for the first in-person program planning conducted since June 2019.
- First, you'll all talk about what's on your mind and those of others interested in or concerned about industry.
